The grocer thinks he is filling the cask, but he isn't. He has to take account of that open spigot with its steady leakage and certain loss. The man who would ignorantly permit this waste and loss would be simply put down as heedless and careless.

But the man who would knowingly permit it, who would continue his efforts to fill the cask regardless of the palpable waste and loss would be considered little better than a madman, and as a merchant on Every time man or woman puts food into a diseased stomach there is a repetition of the folly of the merchant in his effort to fill his leaking cask. We eat to live. Physical life is sustained by food and by food alone. But in order to sustain life the food eaten must be digested and its nutrition extracted and assimilated. So that it is not by the food eaten that we must reckon sustenance, but by only so much of it as is properly digested. When there is disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition there is failure in the digestive processes and a consequent loss of nutrition. That is what makes dyspepsia dangerous. We think of it as affecting the stomach only. But it affects the whole body and every organ of the body which

The proof of this loss of nutrition when the stomach is diseased, is that it is generally accompanied by loss of weight.

It naturally would be. If life is sustained by the nutrition derived from food, and part of this nutrition is being lost and wasted, there will be a corresponding waste of flesh and loss of weight. And as nutrition is the source of physical strength, when there is loss of nutrition there

If you are weak, run-down and losing flesh, the most probable cause of your condition is disease of the stomach and digestive and nutritive tract. Probably this as a consequence of diseased stomach and innutrition and have

"doctored" for these organs, naturally with very little success, because the loss of nutrition which is a loss of strength is going on all the time.

The simple, sensible thing to do is to stop that leak and loss of nutrition, then the logical result should be the regaining of lost flesh and lost strength. This is just the result that follows the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, stops the leak and loss of nutrition and builds up the body with sound flesh and strong muscle. The scales prove it. There's no guess-work about such cures. If you are weak, run-down, and losing flesh, nervous, irritable, and generally miserable, you can make yourself healthy and strong again by using "Golden Medical Discovery" to stop the loss of nutrition which is a loss of physical sustenance and "I was weak, nervous and dizzy, with a fainting sensation when walking," writes Jesse Childress, Esq., of Samuel, Sullivan Co., Tenn. "Could not walk any distance; always felt had after eating; felt as though something was sticking in my throat, always uneasiness in stomach. Was taken down in January, 1898. Doctored with two or three physicians, but they did not relieve me any. I grew worse and used everything I could think of; was nearly ready to give up and then some one told me that Dr. Pierce's medicine was good, so I began taking his "Golden Medical Discovery." AN HONEST EXPLANATION.

Better than many sermons on the relations between capital and labor are the following remarks from the was a physical injury of 15 years annual address of President John Mc-Neill, of the Boiler Makers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union of America, recently delivered in Baltimore:

cursed her in the most vulgar fashion, telling her to mind her own business, and that she, like the rest of the people of Spain, must learn that he was master and that he would have no interference with his conduct. Proceeding further as he grew more angry he threatened to call his guard and have her forcibly ejected into the street. Scenes like this have been frequent, and his mother now refuses to see him, excepting in public. The conduct of the young king is marked by many other extraordinary and un reasonable acts, and the opinion is expressed that his mind always weak ly and much abused by efforts which newspaper published on the Columbia have been made to enforce its development, is not sound. This would not be surprising. His father was a man of many weaknesses, and had broken his constitution by exceses long before the child was born. SUITS OUR CLIMATE

The rapidly increasing use of shingles as covering for the walls of buildings, both to keep out the weather and for ornamental purposes, makes a great demand for a shingle stain which preserves the wood, prevents moss, and retains a fresh, handsome appearance. Particularly is such the case in damp climates. The need is well met in a perfect article made right here in As-Cutbirth's Creosote Shingle Stains are penetrative, preservative, handsome and durable.
